DAILY REPORTS ON WORKERS OF THE TRADE CLUB

Bulletin Will Tell How Wiley and Egan Put in Time; Need of Two Men Is Questioned.

As a means of keeping the members posted as to the way in which the paid employees put in their time a bulletin is to be posted daily at the Commercial club showing in detail what Manager Wiley and Secretary Egan have been doing during the day.

The first report was posted yesterday. It showed that thirty-four letters were answered by the club yesterday. Of these six were general, four were regarding business openings, seventeen were regarding the climate, while seven had to do with the club's affairs.

The report shows further that eight new arrivals reported at the club yesterday and that the same number were found locations in boarding and rooming houses or in cottages. Two new members were secured and one resignation was sent in. One committee was appointed, consisting of J. E. Goodell, Jerry Hagaman, Roy McDonald, Dr. O. T. Hyde, A. B. McGaffey, this committee to have charge of taking up with some of the big league teams the matter of training here this spring.

The report shows that Manager Wiley spent two hours dictating letters, four hours looking over arrivals, one hour on publicity writing up the city for the Automobile Blue Book of America, half an hour on new members, one hour and a half in two conferences regarding a new railroad proposition and the present status of the American Lumber company.

The secretary's time was divided, three hours on the books and club rooms, five hours collecting publicity funds and delinquent dues and two hours on new membership, arranging cards of prospective members, etc.

The reports were decided upon because the question has been raised that two paid men are not necessary at the club.

White House Is Mecca of Antis And Suffragists

Women Representing Organized Effort For and Against Granting of Franchise Call Upon President.

(By Evening Herald Leased Wire) Washington, Dec. 14.—The White House today was the mecca of women leaders of both camps in the fight for suffrage.

The first delegation received by the president came from the National Association Opposed to Woman Suffrage, which held its annual meeting here yesterday and was headed by Mrs. Arthur M. Dodge of New York, its president.

Several hundred members of the National American Woman Suffrage association, under the leadership of Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, the retiring president, were to call on the president late today.

Mrs. Gustafson in a brief address declared that suffrage was an issue which the states rather than congress should determine. The president made no response as the 200 women of the party began shaking hands as soon as Mrs. Dodge had finished.

Permission to address the house was denied today to Mrs. Frances Jolliffe of California, and Mrs. Sara Bard Field of Oregon, who recently drove a motor car here from the Pacific coast with a huge suffrage petition for a constitutional amendment.

Representative Nolan of California asked the house to permit them to speak for twenty minutes after adjournment, but Representative Page of North Carolina objected.

ONLY ELKS WILL BE ADMITTED TO PARTY

Only Elks and their wives and daughters will be admitted to the New Year's eve celebration at the Elk club house. The restriction was decided upon by the house committee last night because there are not tables enough to accommodate outsiders, whom it had been intended to admit as guests.

SIMMS' CLOCK AMONG THINGS PRISONER HAS

Lawyer Identifies Articles Found in Itinerant Fortune Teller's Possession as His Property.

Charged with peddling without a license a man who describes himself as Prof. J. W. Avis, teacher of mesmerism and fortune telling, was sentenced to thirty days in jail this morning by City Judge Craig. A short time after he was taken away to begin his sentence, Attorney John P. Simms came to the station house and identified a desk clock and a pair of shoes found among the "Professor's" things as his. They were taken from his office in the Barnett building a day or two ago, he said.

Avis has been in town about a month. He claims to be an old soldier and wears an artilleryman's uniform. Chief McMillin has been suspicious of him and last night he locked him up on a technical charge of peddling. Avis had thimbles for sale. A varied collection of things, including a woman's silver coin purse, a silver match box, a fancy pin, two revolvers, a lot of keys and other small articles were among his things. He said he bought them all.

Chief McMillin pursued his investigations with increased interest after seeing the things and the identification by Attorney Simms was the first definite development.

G.O.P. National Convention Set For June 7, 1916

Place of Holding Meeting to Be Selected Later; Some Opposition Evident to Date Finally Chosen.

(By Evening Herald Leased Wire) Washington, D. C., Dec. 14.—Chicago was selected by the Republican national committee as the meeting place of the 1916 national convention to be held June 7, one week before the Democratic convention in St. Louis.

Washington, Dec. 14.—The Republican national committee today decided to hold the 1916 Republican national convention on June 7. The place will be selected later. A provision to hold the convention later in June was defeated by a vote of 27 to 12.

The Republican national committee's sub-committee on call, appointed to frame the call for the Republican national convention next year, reported today in favor of holding the convention in June, 1916. The committee did not mention any of the four cities which want the convention.

Adoption of the sub-committee's recommendation would mean that the Republican convention will be held a week prior to the Democratic convention at St. Louis, a move for which there was considerable support among members of the committee who believe an advantage thus would be gained in getting their platform before the country first.

The full committee must pass this recommendation. The committee decided it would give a hearing to suffrage and anti-suffrage leaders after hearing claims of the various cities seeking the convention.

FISH FRY FOR TROUT WATERS OF THE STATE

2,500 Little Fellows Go Into Jemez and 3,750 to Las Huertas; Carried on Special Car.

United States fish car No. 1 of the department of commerce arrived in Albuquerque last night after having brought a load of brook trout from the Leadville, Colo., hatchery. The fish were assigned to the Santa Fe railway company and were delivered to sportsmen, forest rangers, deputy game wardens and others interested at many places for streams between Raton and Albuquerque.

The load consisted of about 25,000 fish two inches in length, and are of an unusually hardy and fast growing strain of the eastern brook trout. The Leadville hatchery is the largest trout hatchery in the world and is located 10,800 feet above sea level so the fish are produced and reared in water derived from melted snow only.

The fish car carries a crew of five men who live on it practically the year around. It has boiler and pumps for forcing air into the water, which makes it the same as running water. E. K. Burnham of Washington, D. C., is in charge of the car, and has had many years' experience with the fishes of the Rocky mountain region, working in co-operation with the forest service officials and rangers.

The fish fry have been distributed in New Mexico as follows: Raton, 1,750 for the Sagarite river; Las Vegas, 2,500 for the Gallinas river; Santa Fe, 2,750 for Santa Fe river; 2,750 for the Nambé river; Bernadillo, 2,500 for the Jemez river, 2,750 for Las Huertas.

The rest of the fry will be distributed at Magdalena, Silver City, Sanford, Ariz., and other points.
